

SILVIO CAMPARA

Chief Executive Officer

Silvio Campara is Chief Executive Officer at Golden Goose, an Executive member of its Board of Directors, and a Sustainability Board Sponsor, in charge of ensuring the Board's engagement in sustainability and DEI matters and the latter's integration in every decision-making process. Silvio joined the Company in 2013 as Chief Commercial Officer, with the aim of giving new life to the Venetian Brand by reinforcing its Founding Values and image.

From 2009 to 2013, Silvio began a new professional chapter working as a Manager with investment funds, specializing in buy-out operations. During this time, he established a long and profitable collaboration with Style Capital, where he spearheaded the expansion of the Sundek brand serving as the Brand and Export Manager. Prior to that, he worked at Giorgio Armani, where he designed and structured the company's retail system in Asia and Australia for its Armani Junior and Armani Jeans brands. His professional career began in 2004 working in retail at Alexander McQueen.

Born in 1979, Silvio graduated with a degree in Economics and Fashion Design Management from the Luigi Bocconi University (Italy).